

BIO - STATEMENT

Francisco Sheuat, award winning, and tv series Art-Loft featured artist, epitomizes the current trend toward upcycled art in today's contemporary art scene. Making a statement with recycled soda cans as his media; becoming at the same time a declaration of ecology and protection for our planet. Sheuat views his work as a commitment to a greener planet, recycling and reusing as an ongoing theme.

Born in Caracas, Venezuela, Francisco Sheuat resides in Wilton Manors and works in Fort Lauderdale, FL, where he opened Art Expressions Gallery in 2002. Today, he has his art studio in the heart of Fort Lauderdale's Arts District - FatVillage where he creates and exhibits his unique art. Recognized and supported by the community where he lives, his works have been shown at museums, galleries and art fairs. His art has received numerous awards and is part of prestigious collections worldwide.

Highlights

Art Curator Work

As a curator, Sheuat selects and often interprets different works of art. In addition to selecting works, Sheuat is responsible for everything like writing labels, catalog essays, and other content supporting art exhibitions. Sheuat has an eye for a variety of art forms and a passion for staging artwork in a way that creates interest in the exhibition space—whether it is small or large, contained within four walls, or staged outdoors.
